valorant points are a way around this as they allow you to instantly purchase one or more tiers at any given time for any of the agents it costs 200 points to unlock each level and should you opt to unlock more than one at a time there are no discounts on each character riot games has added a limit to the number of levels you can buy with points and that is 5 levels the reasoning behind this is at tier 5 you unlock a locked agent this means that for 1000 valorant points you can unlock a new agent this is not required though as you can unlock them using xp it ll just take you a lot longer
